Law as it applies here. Merlin was known to walk backward in time, and as a result, he had what most called magic. One day, a young Arthur asked Merlin for the laws of how to create. Merlin replied that there were no such laws and that he did not like the idea of laws at all. Then Merlin shared with Arthur this simple idea: "My lad," he said, "in life one must make negotiations. The idea is this: Make the best deal that you can negotiate and when it comes time, deliver a little bit more."

Arthur used this often, and despite his mentor's wishes, he told everyone that this was Merlin's law. It works with all kinds of energy exchanges. In the days ahead, keep in mind that relationships are one of these negotiations.

It's interesting that during these times of change on Earth, relationships can help create this sacred space of which we speak. All it takes is one strong connection. Find it, or make it happen somewhere. If you do not have one very strong connection, make many of them instead. Do you need to be in harmony with someone about your joint creation? No, not anymore. Even if they're only short interactions, it helps to set up the network all over the planet. As you feed ideas and love into the connection, it expands exponentially and grounds the energy.

As we've also mentioned, dear ones, many of you are from the Family of E. This was the first time that you would play the game without overshadowing rules, for it was the game of free choice. And as such, many of this family actually took off their wings to play the game. Now you have a massive amount of them there, but they're all fairly young. Although they are only small children, they are holding an energy that can greatly help.

As you make these connections, find that one person or group you can connect with on a regular basis to help strengthen the web that you are building; re-member to include the children. Make space for them in your thoughts because they're bringing in the answers that many of you are seeking right now.

It is with the greatest of honor, dear ones, that we greet you in this way. We ask you to treat each other with respect, nurture one another, and play well together.

At every opportunity, you are the magicians of the game board. I am Em, and I love you dearly. Espavo.

Steve Rother was an entrepreneur before he became a lightworker and author. His change of path happened following a spiritual experience on New Year's Eve 1996. That night, he started saying things that, according to him, did not originate from him but came from the "group" — a group of nine energetic entities. Magical and Sensory Awareness for New Challenges

Laarkmaa through Pia Orleane and Cullen Baird Smith

We will give you guidance about what is coming in 2021, the process you are going through, and what to expect. For almost two decades, we have shared Laarkmaa's wisdom and guidance. We will now give you a pattern of what will happen on your planet leading up to, during, and a few months after 2021.

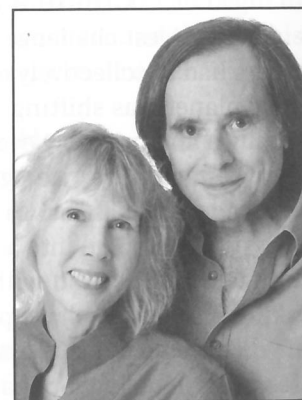

You are in a time of accelerated awakening. We trust most of you reading this are aware that everything is accelerating. Some things in this acceleration process are elemental, such as the increasing number of ships and beings available to assist as more of you awaken at higher levels. As part of the current, accelerating evolution, you become more conscious.¹

Everything Is a Choice

As humans, you have the opportunity to choose your emotions, thoughts, actions, and feelings; everything is a choice. You have the opportunity to constantly bring yourself out from the doom and gloom you feel when you look at what is happening on your planet and shift your focus to an interdimensional or multidimensional understanding of what is truly happening. The third dimension, although it seems very real to you, is simply an illusion. In that illusion, you see much suffering, pain, hunger, discord, conflict, and lies broadcast through your media.

You have been forced to abide by unusual regulations in the year 2020. We see evidence of your expanding consciousness in your choice to use the lockdowns and regulatory control in creative and connective ways. Rather than stopping your social life through prescribed social distancing, you chose to increase it by sharing information, videos, and wisdom from sources like us with friends, family, and others who are interested. This is a choice that expands your consciousness as you creatively discover ways to go beyond intended control mechanisms. That is what this time is all about — expanding in every way that you can.

The Next Great Shift Is Coming

You might also be keenly aware that what you call the veil (between worlds or dimensions) is thinner now, as new energies come into and surround the planet. Here is something we believe has not been shared by any other channel: You know that in 2012, a shift of some kind occurred that helped accelerate human evolution. The availability of dimensions shifted from being only singular to possibilities for multidimensionality. On December 21, 2012, you were given access to all twelve dimensions simultaneously for the first time in human history. Many of you felt the change instantly. Others grew into it gradually while adjusting to unusual experiences or recalling parallel life connections.

Now you are approaching another shift that will occur on December 21, 2020, when a great conjunction of planetary influences will conspire to bring you an inaugural gateway, portal, or initiation into another way of being. With this shift of energies, you can expect certain attributes, gifts, and talents to become available to you if you have been doing your personal work to evolve. Until now, these gifts might have seemed like magic, for perhaps you did not believe they could be real beyond your imagination.

Now, in preparation for this great opportunity, keep your vibration at its highest and expand your awareness so that when these possibilities appear (around the time of the great shift in December 2020), you will automatically be prepared for magical synchronicities. You might discover an increased ability to teleport your thoughts using intuition and telepathy rather than words. You might become more sensitive to sounds, smells, and other forms of sensory input and information that have always been part of your ordinary world. For example, smells that you are accustomed to take on new meanings or give you new messages. You might hear sounds at different frequencies, feeling the vibrations in the cells of your body or tingles on your skin.

These senses will give new meaning to your understanding of life. You will also find that your third eye will open more fully, as you begin to see things from a multidimensional perspective rather than from your usual third-dimensional perspective. We see all these things occurring, as you begin to expand beyond your limited carbon-based forms into new, liquid, and crystalline-based forms. You expand and change your total selves as you begin to know yourselves as the new humans.

You Are So Much More

The process you are undergoing has to do with the extreme effects of the cosmic weather and your internal increase, through raising your individual and collective vibrations, in the light that you carry. Cosmic weather includes the increased cosmic rays that permeate your magnetosphere for two reasons: (1) Your Sun is in a solar minimum, which automatically and naturally weakens your magnetosphere protection on Earth. (2) Those who have tried to control you and the weather of your planet through geochemical engineering (chemtrails) have caused an additional weakening of your magnetosphere.

With a weakened magnetosphere, you receive more irradiation from the cosmic rays that arrive from space. This is not totally harmful; it can be very positive for your evolution, for the increase in cosmic ray activity (although it might make you feel physically uncomfortable or mentally sluggish) brings additional light into your cells. As you receive more light, you become more connected to Source, each other, and everything and everyone in the universe. More light in your cells awakens all twelve strands of your DNA and gives you access to all twelve dimensions you were given access to in 2012. As the twelve strands of DNA awaken, you experience yourselves more fully as multidimensional beings rather than the limited versions with which you are so familiar here in the third dimension. You are so much more.

In your changing environment, you are going to experience instability, but that is not a bad thing; it is a step into fluidity. You will feel waves of energy from the cosmos, other beings here to help, and the movement of what is happening on the planet. These waves of energy will help you raise your vibration, because in these waves, you will naturally feel lighter and not bound to the dense, carbon-based form that houses all your pain and uncomfortable reactions. Your crystalline-based form eliminates the knots and congestion by absorbing and outwardly reflecting more light.

These waves of energy approach your planet (beginning in December 2020) and continue pulsing new energies. Each wave can be perceived as a gift to help you evolve and grow. You must learn to surrender your thoughts and feel what is here using your heart rather than your brain for guidance. In feeling the waves of energy that approach the planet and permeate you and your environment, you will experience joy, bliss, compassion, trust, and a sense that everything is expanding and growing exactly as it should.

Use Tones to Open Your Heart

Remember that you are cocreators, and when powerful experiences occur, do not be passive recipients of energies. Be active, take them into yourselves, and utilize them to give out equal-measure waves of love, joy, trust, and compassion. Do this as you look at, communicate with, or touch others whether they are humans, animals, or plants. As you do this, you will unfold from a compressed state into a freer form of higher awareness. You might wish to use tones such as “ahhh,” “ooohh,” or “eehhh.”

We understand that you cannot hear these tones in written form, but you can reference their sounds on the Pleiadian Laarkmaa YouTube video.² They are tones of healing and connection. Remember, we Pleiadians communicate through musical and mathematical tones. The “ahhh” tone opens the heart. The “ooohhh” tone promotes expansion outward from Earth into the universe and inward to Earth’s core. The “eehhh” tone reverberates laterally in all directions.

All these tones help you expand consciousness, increase awareness of possible connections with other realms, and open your hearts. They are good tools to use daily in 2021 and beyond. As your hearts continue to open in an accelerated fashion through the awakening you experience, your consciousness grows, and you automatically make wiser choices because your hearts are leading your minds. Do not despair that your minds are no longer taking the central role in your lives; the time for the mind to lead is over. In 2021, the heart will guide the mind and tell you when to speak out and how to recognize the truth in every moment, adapt and utilize arriving waves of energy, and be who you truly are.

You have much to look forward to in 2021, and you still have a lot of work to do. Your purpose is to be here in this magnificent time of radical transformation, as humans move out of their cocoons to become free butterflies. You all can choose whether or not this happens according to your thoughts, feelings, and actions, all of which reverberate into the universe.

Keep Up Your Vibrations

Those of you reading this article have most likely already made the choice and are doing everything you can to keep your vibrations high and in alignment with the energies that are arriving and will continue to arrive. You make choices daily, moment by moment, to do whatever you consciously can to ascend into the higher, lighter form that we define as the liquid, crystalline body. As your inner work makes you lighter, your inner light naturally shines out. That is the reflective effect of being crystalline.

Liquid refers to your flexibility, fluidity, and wave-like, etheric quality. In these new forms, you will be nurtured differently. You will no longer need to take in the same amount or types of dense foods that you previously chose to sustain yourselves. In 2021, you will use a lighter form of nourishment (we refer to this in our manual as the ascension diet¹), if you choose.

Where are you in your process? This is a question for each of you, as you maintain the power of individual choice even though there is also a collective, planetary experience. The more each of you makes higher vibrational choices, the more the collective will also experience changes into higher vibrational frequencies. There is a range of possibilities that include your human choices and predictions for 2021 and beyond.

As we mentioned, December 21, 2020, brings in a wave of accelerated energies and lighter vibrations not previously available to you. This is a second wave following the 2012 wave; however, this wave will be much more intense. Energies of this type have not been around for very long, and in this formation and these circumstances, they have never been available for the human species.

Embrace This Time of Empowerment

You are alive at a most auspicious time. As these energies arrive in December 2020 and stretch your awareness into 2021, all challenges will not drop away. However, you will have the opportunity to begin, through this shift, to accumulate your own powers and recognize that as powerful human beings, you have choices of your own to make. You will, if you choose to act according to these energies, begin to use your wisdom and voices to speak out about what you will or will not accept or allow for your species.

You will not be as compliant as you were in 2020. In other words, 2021 is a time of empowerment. It is a time to create alternative realities that bring a more beneficent environment to your planet. It is time to create alternate ways to view what is happening, intuitively perceive what is coming more quickly, and find solutions that serve the highest good of all. The year 2021 will involve empowered service to the planet and to an evolving humanity.

In the Northern Hemisphere during the autumn of 2022, the energies will shift yet again, this time initiating an era of peace and prosperity for those who have done their work and choose to remain in service to this planet and its people. This shift will be the third wave of accelerating energies to support your evolution (the first in 2012, the second in 2020, and the third in 2022). This third wave will be felt on October 22, 2022, according to your Gregorian calendar. However, as many of you already know, we do not abide by your Gregorian concept of time, which is entirely artificial and must be adjusted every four years to match nature’s rhythms on your planet. We use the Pleiadian-Earth energy system that shows you which energies arrive on any given day — both universal energies and Earth energies.

You will feel the third wave arrive and alter you through offering cellular information, increased DNA expansion, conscious awareness, and a different interaction with and response to life. These energies will continue all the way into your Gregorian year 2034 for those who chose to stay here when you enter a fourth shift that supports your evolution.

In summary, in 2012, the twelve dimensions opened simultaneously for the first time in human history. On December 21, 2020, new energies will provide an inaugural gateway, portal, or initiation into another way of being. October 22, 2022, brings a more peaceful energy, altering you at a cellular level and increasing your DNA expansion and conscious awareness. In 2034, the shift will bring a more unified energy and different ways of understanding unity consciousness and true reality as the veil of illusion drops away and new and exciting experiences become available to you.

Wonderful Work Awaits You

In 2021, you will have much wonderful work to do. Take each challenge that comes your way and turn it into an opportunity. Remember that you are here for a purpose. You have chosen to complete your mission and move forward into becoming the new humans. This should not frighten you; it should excite you. When you shift to becoming new humans, you eliminate all things that have ruled your planet, such as competition, judgment, greed, violence, control, and manipulation.

Those who do not ascend with the new, lighter, less dense Earth will continue their paths of evolution in karmic cycles of growth and development. Don't worry about what happens to them, because they develop and evolve at their own chosen pace; they will just be doing it somewhere else. They will do fine in their personal and collective progressions. Everyone's evolution is unfolding as it should.

You have work to do in 2021 to closely examine all your old beliefs and patterns and drop those that no longer suit you. View each challenge as an opportunity to cocreate a more benevolent environment for yourselves and everyone else. Remember the example we have often used of seeing yourself as everyone else. We refer to this understanding with the Mayan term In Lak'ech, which means literally, "I am another yourself." You must also work to achieve ahimsa, which means "do no harm to anyone or anything." If you use these principles in every circumstance you encounter in 2021, you will join the accelerated process through your own efforts and positive choices.

Use Simple Techniques to Raise Your Vibration

Laugh with others. Some practical spiritual techniques include simply stopping whenever you catch yourself being involved in negative thinking, judging, or worrying (about yourself, others, or the world). Remember that worrying about something contributes negative energy to the situation, so it does absolutely no good and can actually cause further suffering. Stop the process the moment you begin to worry. Turn your thoughts around by objectifying what you are thinking. Distance yourself from what you see or hear that causes you pain. Look at it from the objective perspective of someone in the third dimension simultaneously able to access a multidimensional perspective, for that indeed is what you are doing.

This is a very practical spiritual practice. When you become objective, you can often use laughter as a tool. When you see people doing something ignorant or out of alignment with your choices, send them compassion and then laugh, because laughter raises your vibration back to where it needs to be. Do not laugh at others but at the situation, seeing people as you would children still learning to walk who fall but are unhurt. Laugh at their inability to understand and move through life at the higher levels, but send compassion for the growth and learning that is occurring.

Laughter is a great tool, but always remember that it is to be used with others and never against them. It needs to come from your heart rather than from any mental judgment, and objectivity helps you achieve high-vibrational laughter. Become objective, lower your emotional reactions, and raise your vibrational responses of love, joy, trust, and compassion in any adverse or troublesome situation.

Another technique is to connect with water. Take a glass of water, stand in the shower, take a bath, or walk near a stream, lake, or ocean and put your feet in the water. Connect your internal water energetically or telepathically to the water you hold or step into. Remember that each of you is approximately 75 percent water in varying ratios depending on your individual makeup. Therefore, when you connect your water to external water, you can automatically send your light into the outer water and simultaneously receive instructions from the water on how to be more fluid and flexible. This is a very practical technique to use in 2021.

A third practical technique for 2021 is to use the energies we have provided in the Pleiadian-Earth energy calendar to navigate your lives energetically every day rather than managing as best you can with artificial time through a clock or Gregorian calendar. This technique might be the most beneficial, for it orients you to where you are going between 2022 and 2034, if you choose to be here. You will practice stepping outside of time and into a multidimensional perspective of the greater reality through energy, not time.

Learn Your Magic

These are tools that we recommend to help you move forward in 2021. Remember that you have within you the power that is awakening now in this accelerated process to become the magical beings you were always intended to be. You might find yourselves learning to fly through space, communicate telepathically across the planet, or use your light to redirect something out of balance by focusing on it. You might be able to connect more directly with other beings from all kingdoms, including the devas of your plants and trees in the earth kingdom, the fairy realm, the wisdom and consciousness of water on your planet, the angelic kingdom, and star sisters and brothers such as us.

All kingdoms are becoming more available to you. Remember that they become more available as you raise your vibration to match theirs. Your work is to continually keep your vibration high. Read spiritual material. Watch spiritual videos. Listen to uplifting tones or music. Objectify things that come to you in a negative form and send light into them. Connect spiritually with one another through love. Remember who you really are, and begin to see yourselves stepping into the magical forms of new humans.

The choice point for those of you who have earned the right to ascend to the newly formed lighter Earth has already been reached long ago. It has always been your choice to evolve and grow toward a higher vibratory form. You made the choice to become new humans and to ascend with Earth. Those who have not made this choice will benefit from your work for as long as you remain here completing your mission.

Congratulations on your enormous courage in choosing to be here at this time to evolve and change in consciousness as you complete task after task in the third-dimensional reality! By overcoming all your challenges and difficulties, you will graduate from the false illusion of this plane. Most of your work in the outer world is now complete; all that remains is your work on the inner planes.

Grassroots World-Servers Wanted!

Archangel Michael through Ronna

Beloved masters, you are currently integrating the next level of creator light with the assistance of your over-soul intelligence. Connecting with the many facets of your fifth-dimensional self will result in a new biological blueprint of creation.

Your divine birthright includes all the gifts, talents, attributes, and virtues of creation. They are free — yours for the taking. However, you must then show yourself worthy through your efforts and share your integrated wisdom with those on the path behind you. The wise ones, masters of Earth, and initiates on the path have spent much time and effort to bring forth their talents

Allow higher vibratory choices to radiate outward to benefit others. A New Earth is being designed and is waiting for you when the moment for your ascension arrives. Although the choice point has already been reached, you continue to have work to do here on your mission. Your work at the higher vibratory levels helps not only those who are here to help humanity and the planet ascend but also those who made the choice to continue their karmic lessons elsewhere, preparing them for higher understandings as they continue their growth. Your high-vibrational choices radiate out to benefit all.

In 2021, you will prepare yourselves for continued service here on Earth until Earth ascends or to work elsewhere in the universe, as you choose. Remember that it is always your choice and that choice is the greatest gift to humanity. This is our prediction for what you will experience in 2021 and beyond.
